

ANAEDO SOCIAL CLUB INTERNATIONAL, LONDON BRANCH - WELCOME MESSAGE

Chief Sir Ben Agwunobi,
Public Relations Officer &
National Patron

On behalf of Anaedo Social Club International, London Branch, I sincerely welcome the creation of this new website. To say that it is long overdue is an understatement, but it is better late than never!

This website should be a medium for opening many doors, especially in communication. As the world is a global village, from wherever one is, at the click of a button information of Anaedo, London Branch, will be there in front of you. This great Club is not a secret society, thus there is nothing for us to hide. Our activities are in public domain. The website should then bring more positive benefits. For, people will be able to see and understand what it means to belong to a family orientated Club, which is precisely what we are. With regular updates, our various activities should be transparent. Furthermore, new or prospective members are encouraged to contact us prior to joining through this medium.

Clearly, having a website will enhance our worldly presence, and our bona fide existence will be beyond reasonable doubt. For the creation of this initiative, I must use this opportunity to thank the entire members for agreeing to have it in the first place. Special thanks must go to our esteemed Chairman, Chief Sir Anthony Okoye, and the Vice Chairman, Chief Felix Ike for sacrificing a lot of his time to spearhead this website project on our behalf.

The standing of Anaedo Social Club International, London Branch, will now rise immensely and so will her image. In this day and age, communication is key, and our new website will go a long way in showcasing our hitherto many hidden values.
